

Dear Parents/Guardians,

We are happy to announce that Mr. Angelo Castucci has been hired as Vice Principal of Holy Trinity Interparochial School. Mr. Castucci comes to us with a very rich background in education. He is certified as an elementary school teacher and administrator. He has taught for years in the public schools of Newark and most recently served as a Vice Principal of St. Benedict's Elementary School in Newark. Mr. Castucci also served as an adjunct professor of education at Caldwell College and Seton Hall University.

Mr. Castucci has experience in grants development and served as the Director of Development for Essex County College. Mr. Castucci has his Master's Degree in Education and forty-five credits beyond his Master's. He has certification in the Permanent New Jersey School Administrator/Principal/Supervisor program.

It is with great pride that we celebrate Mr. Castucci's presence in Holy Trinity Interparochial School. Please welcome Mr. Castucci to our school community as you meet him over the next couple of weeks. We are confident that he will be a genuine asset to our thriving school community. May God Bless our new Vice Principal, the school administration and everyone involved in our School as we begin another great year.
